FALL OF AN UNSAFE BUILDING. TWO CHILDREN KILLED AND ONE BADLY INJURED IN JERSEY CITY.

TWO CHILDREN KILLED AND ONE RABLY INJURED IN JERSEY CITY.

C. S. Frost's kindling wood factory, in Third-st.
near Brunswick-st., Jersey City, was partially destroyed by fire three weeks ago Saturday night.
There was nothing left but the frame and the floors,
and these were so badly scorehed that the owners
did not think it advisable to repair the building.
The occupants of tenement houses in the neighborhood have been busily engaged since that time in tearing off boards and timbers and carrying them away for fuel. So diligent had they been in this work that nothing but the mere frame of the lower part of the building was left yesterday. Shortly after noon there were between twenty and thirtly children in the building. Some were on the lower floor, but most of them were on the second and third floors playing. The building had been so thoroughly depleted of timber and boards that the only supports which it had were a few upright posts resting on the foundation timbers. About noon an Italian entered the lower floor and began to fill his bag with wood. When he had gathered up the senail loose pieces lying around he began chopping on one of the puright posts supporting the structure.

In a few minutes a loud crackling noise was heard, and the next moment the structure began to totter over sideways, and the props all gave way.
The building came down with a crash. There was a panic among the children, but they all escaped except three. Two were crushed to death, and one was injured so badiy that its life is despaired of.
The killed are Catharine Griffin, age eleven, of No, 85 Colgate-st., and Thomas Shannon, age seven, of No, 74 Colgate-st. The child injured is Josephine Finn, of No. 471 First-st. She was bruised about the head and body, and one of her legs was broken.
The crash alarmed the neighbors, who hastened to the seene and succeeded in recovering the body of the boy and reseaning the girl who was injured.
The other dead child was so firmly fastened by the timbers, however, that they could not get her out structure in order to prevent the possibility of any further accident. The bodies of the two children were taken home.

There was considerable excitement in the neighborhood after the disaster and before it was definitely ascertained how many children had been killed Women. It'ving near by gathered around and made frantic scarce for their children. The arrival of the police and the firemen added to the excitement, and wild rumors were circulated among the crowd. Indignation was expressed that the building, which had been in a dangerous condition since the fire, had not been pulled down or made secure. It was stated that there was no person in the city with authority in such a case. Unsafe buildings come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Fire Commissioners to a certain extent, but through a defect in the law the Board has no power either to tear down a building or compel the owner to make it secure. The Italian who chopped down the support escaped. The only tracers of him that were discovered were his pipe and bag.

WHY THE PRICE OF ICE HAS RISEN.

WHY THE PRICE OF ICE HAS RISEN.

The report that the ice companies had made an advance in their prices caused indignation among the consumers vesterday. A Tribune reporter called at the office of the Kuickerbocker Company to learn the reason of the advance. The president of the company, Robert Maclay, said he did not know why the public always cried out so loudly at every real or expected rise in the figures of the ice companies. As for the present report, there had been no rise of any consequence. The reporter suggested that new price lists had just been issued, dated July 18. "Those lists," said Mr. Maclay, "give the schedule of prices as it was adopted in the spring. It is quite pessible that in some cases the dealers may have gone below the figures. What gave rise to the report of an advance was probably this: In the winter there is a great deal of stack-ice put up in cheap buildings where it will only keep a few months. When the season begins this stackies is thrown upon the market in large quantities, compelling regular companies in some instances to lower their figures. But there has been no advance in the schedule."

lower their figures. But there has been no advance in the schedule."

Some of the other companies admitted that there was talk of a general advance, and all agreed that they are losing money at the present figures. The New-York City lee Company has just raised its prices, and the treasurer is of the opinion that all the companies will probably do so. "We hope," said he, "in that way to get back what it cost us."

"I know you won't believe it," said the president of another company, "but we are all losing money this year. Last year at this time we got $8 a ton where we now have $2." It seemed generally to be believed that the Knickerbocker had advanced, but some dealers said that bargains were still made with the Knickerbocker's men at 30 cents instead of the schedule rate of 50 cents. The truth appears to be that at the beginning of the season the Knickerbocker's men at 30 cents instead of the schedule, but found them too high for the market, and that now, when there is less rivalry, it proposes to make up for the past. The other companies all seem ready to follaw the example, but many of them don't their ability to secure the higher rates.

PASTOR AND CURATE AT ODDS. At the death of the Rev. J. R. McDonald, of the Roman Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception, in Brooklyn, about three years ago, the Rev. John Crimmin was appointed the pastor. His curate was and is the Rev Father Murray. There soon appeared to be some misunderstanding between curate and pastor, which quickly spread among the congregation, and resulted in two factions. Father Crimmin found the church in financial difficulties and succeeded in compromising with a number of the creditors by paying 50 cents on a dollar. Shortly after, in consequence of failing health, he went to Colorado, and was absent several months. In his absence Father Murray began the crection of a new parsonage, which, it is alieged, cost $1,000. In his absence Father Murray began the erection of a new parsonage, which, it is alleged, cost $4,000. When Father Crimmin returned he ordered work on the building to be discontinued. The bishop countermanded the order, and the building was completed. Father Murray immediately moved in, but Father Crimmin refused to enter the building, and is now occupying apartments in a house opposite the church. Subsequently Joseph Carney, a member of the church, was invested by the bishop with power to receive all money and pay the debts with power to receive all money and pay the debt of the church. This served to increase the feeling of the church. This served to increase the feeling. Some time ago an organization known as Father Murray's Catholic Union gave a number of enter tainnents, all of which were largely attended. The Union recently announced that a prenic under its auspices would take place next Thursday. At the early masses Sunday morning Father Murray announced the pione, and urged the congregation to attend the festival in a body. He said that the proceeds would be given to the Sisters connected with the church. The later masses were celebrated by Father Crimmin. At their conclusion he stated that the fact had come to his knowledge that a picnic under the auspices of Father Murray's Catholic Union was to take place Thursday. "Now my dear people," said he, "as your spiritual adviser I olic Union was to take place Thursday. "Now my dear people," said he, "as your spiritual adviser I strictly forbid you to attend the pienic. My curate has no authority to arrogate to himself the privilege that he has, and I not only will forbid the children of the Sunday schools to meet here, but will add that any of the congregation who attend the festival will do so without my blessing."

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS FROM SLIPPING. TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS FROM SLIPPING.

Mayor Grace yesterday signed the ordinance to prevent throwing or piacing dangerous substances on the sidewalks or crosswalks. It was introduced by President Morris in the closing days of the old Board, but was not acted upon by the present Board until recently. Section I declares that any person who shall throw or place upon any sidewalk or crosswalk any part of any fruit or vegetable or other substance which when stepped upon by any person is liable to cause him or her to slip or fall shall be deemed guilty of a mislemeanor and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $10, or by imprisonment varying from one to ten days. Section 2 provides that the proprietor of every store, stand or other place where fruit, vegetables or other substances mentioned in Section 1 are sold, shall keep a copy of this ordinance suspended or posted in a conspections place, failing in which he shall be panished by a fine of $5 or imprisonment not to exceed ten days.

The Commissioners of Police are required to enforce the provisions of the ordinance.

STENCHES AROUND PIER NO. 61. STENCHES AROUND PIER NO. 61.

John Meehan, who has charge of the loading of the seews at Pier No. 61 East River, denied yesterday the charge that night soil was being dumped into the river at that place. He claimed that the filling up of the river at that point was caused by the peculiar action of the current, and that most of the mind came from the garbage seews. At the office of P. White, the contractor for removing the night soil, the reporter was told by his bookkeeper that there was not one word of truth in the charge that had been made. If the contract was not carried out the Board of Health had the power to annul it.

Several of the people living or doing business in the neighborhood of the objectionable seows thought the charge was true. They all testified that the stench at low water, or when the mud was sturred up around the docks, was unbearable. None of them said, however, that they had ever seen night soil thrown into the water.

FOUND IN THE STREET AND UNCLAIMED. There are two little children in the Lost Children's Department at Police Headquarters for whom owners are wanted. One is a boy of five, who calls himself John Connors and says that his father, who drives a coal-cart, lives in a shanty above Harlem Bridge. He was found in the street July 13. The other is a girl, not over three years old, who grieves for "mamma and baby." She says, with comical gravity, that her name is "Sophy Koppel & Company," and that her father used to work in a stable; but "since he got sick and called the doctor he has done no work." She is a very pretty child, and it is thought strange that she should have been unclaimed since Saturday. A policeman found her at Second-ave, and Fifty-ninth-st. at 7 o'clock that evening.

NOT TECHNICALLY ABANDONED. COMPLAINT AGAINST MRS. HYNES- IN BROOKLYN, FOR ABANDONING HER DAUGHTER'S CHILD,

DISMISSED,

The case of Mrs. Nancy Hynes and her daughter, Miss Susan Hynes, of St. Louis, arrested Friday upon the charge of abandoning the daughter of the latter, alleged to be the child of John F. McGovern, came up for a hearing in the City Hail Police Court in Brooklyn yesterday. The two women came to this city because Mr. McGovern failed to keep his agreement to support the child, now nearly two years old, and drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel to the house of Joseph Greenwood, father-in-law of Mr. McGovern, in Remsen-st., Brooklyn, Mrs.
Hynes informed Mr. Greenwood that the child was "one of the little responsibilities" of Mr. McGovcrn. On Mr. Greenwood's refusal to have anything to do with it, Mrs. Hynes ordered the coachman to leave it at the house. After this was done she was driven away. Friday she and her daughter were arrested.

driven away. Friday she and her daughter were arrested.

Yesterday in the court-room Mr. Greenwood detailed the facts which came to his knowledge, and Bernard Cunningham, the hack-driver, also testified. Ex-Assistant District-Attorney Wernberg then moved for the dismissal of the complaint. He urged that no abandonment had taken place in the eye of the law. It had not been shown that Mrs. Hynes had any infent to abandon the child, and, on the contrary, she had taken it to its friends, Justice Walsh granted the motion to dismiss the complaint. The child, who was taken to the City Nurse by order of the Society for the Prevention of Crneity to Children, still remains with her. It is not known whether Mr. McGovern will assume his responsibility in the matter; if not, Mrs. Hynes, the grandmother, will take the baby back to St. Louis.

DEATH IN A DOCTOR'S OFFICE.

DEATH IN A DOUTOR'S OFFICE.

Coroner Herrman was informed yeste day of the death of Mary J. Truscott in the office of Dr. Thomas Cleiand, No. 195 Fourth-ave., Sunday evening, while under the influence of an anaesthetic. The woman was a nurse and called on the doctor to be treated by electricity. The doctor in his testimony taken by the Coroner stated that the woman insisted that he should put her under the influence of chieroform and examine her. "I called in Dr. Biock," he continued, "to assist me, he was in attendance all the time. Soon after the inhalation began she showed unpleasant symptoms, but they disappeared and she seemed all right. Then she suddenly died. I used all means to restore her, but they were of no avail. I had examined her heart previously, and found her all right." Dr. Merris M. Block, of No. 311 East One-hundred-and-fourth-st., corroborated Dr. Cleland's testimony. land's testimony.

THE UNIVERSAL LIFE'S AFFAIRS.

S. S. Herrick, president of the Universal Life Insurance Company, said yesterday that no steps had as yet been taken in relation to the deficiency shown to exist in the company's finances by the report of the Superintendent. No notice had yet been sent to the stockholders, and all that they and he knew about it was what they had learned from the report and from the newspapers.

"Will not the stockholders take action?" the reporter asked.

"Will not the stockholders take action?" the reporter asked.

"They are very likely to, since they will receive notice to pay the deficiency." Mr. Herrick replied.

"Has a notice to that effect been issued?"

"I can't do everything in a day. I had no official knowledge of the report till this morning, and I have hardly had time to turn around yet. I den't think anything will be done either to-day or to-morrow."

FAMILY COMPLICATIONS IN PATERSON. George T. Williams, alias William L. Montfirth, was arrested in Paterson, N. J., Theeday, on three charges preferred by his wife of bigamy, intimacy with a woman named Jane Fox, and non-support. Mrs. Williams bore her hasband fourteen children in England. Ten years ago, Williams came to America, bought a house and became a leader in the choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Division-st. Jane Fox, who said yesterday that her husband was living in England, became his house-keeper. Mrs. Williams, who arrived in this country recently, took possession by advice of counsel of her husband's house yesterday with her four surviving children. She also preferred a charge of bigamy against Jane Fox. Williams was locked up.

AWAITING EVIDENCE FROM ITALY.

INTEREST EXCITED BY THE PROCEEDINGS-ARGU MENTS OF THE COUNSEL-AN EFFORT TO TRANS-VER THE EXAMINATION TO NEW-ORLEANS.

That the importance of the arrest of the man who calls himself Rebello, and is charged with being the notorious Italian brigand Esposito, has become more fully appreciated since last week, was proved yesterday by the appearance of prominent lawyers in the case. The interests of the Italian Government were represented by the sentor member of the firm of Condert Brothers, as well as by Mr. Fuller; and Dr. Ullo, coansel for the prisoner, had associated with him ex-Judge Choate. This was ex-Judge Choate's first appearance in the United States Courts since his retirement from the bench. The proceedings yesterday were held in the Circuit Court room, on the third floor of the Post Orice Building. Before United States Commissioner Osborne took his seat on the bench the court-room was crowded with interested spectators, among which memory was provided with interested spectators, among which is counted. The prisoner was brought into court handenfied, and was given a seat in front of his counsel. The handcuffs were removed before the court was ovened, and Rebello, or Esposito, whichever he may be, sat through the proceedings without giving any ontward sign that he was interested in what was going on about him.

Mr. Fuller asked for the production of the paners ward sign that he was interested in what was going on about him.

Mr. Faller asked for the production of the papers which had been found in the possession of the prisoner, and when they were produced he put a number of them in evidence to prove that his name was not Rebello, but that he was known in New-Orleans, at least, as Antonio Constanzo. He also read the following telegram:

ROME, July 17, 1881.

"On that telegram," said Mr. Fuller, "I renew the application for a reasonable adjournment for the production of evidence."

Dr. Ullo said that on Wednesday last the prison-or's counsel had been told that the gens d'armes had already started for this country. The photograph which had been produced in court had not been shown to be the one which had been identified in Italy, and as there was no proof that the prisoner was the man the Italian Government anticle he moved for his discharge. He argued that the papers which had been put in evidence, simply proved that they were the bills of some one who had purchased fruit from dealers in New-Orleans, but they did not prove that the prisoner was Constanzo. But admitting that he was Constanzo, the fact of his using an alias was not an offence for which he could be sent out of the country. If the prisoner was not Esposito or Randazzo, he should not be under arrest. It would be twenty-four days from July 16 before the witnesses could arrive in this country, and he asked, in the name of the liberty which was enjoyed in this country, that Rebello be not confined all that time.

"It has been said," continued Dr. Ullo. "that the

"It has been said," continued Dr. Ullo, "that the "It has been said," continued Dr. Ullo, "that the man wanted has a longitudinal sear on his forehead. Here is the original of the photograph. Examine him and see where the sear is, The Italian Government does not even plead urgency. It does not say that the prisoner is flying from justice or to evade the demands of his Government. He was living quietly in New-Orieans with his wife and child, conducting his business as a fruiterer. There was no reason for his arrest at the time it was made, but since it has been made we ask for a prompt trial."

Commissioner Osborn asked if the defence conceded time it was made, but sine it has been made we ask for a prompt trial."

Commissioner Osborn asked if the defence conceded the photograph to be the photograph of the prisoner. Dr. Ullo said they did not. Neither had it been identified as the one which had been used in Italy. Judge Choate stated that there was not a particle of evidence that the photograph in Italy was even a copy from the same plate as the one produced. Mr. Coudert argued that the Commissioner had a discretion which must not be abused. It had been said in an English case that sometimes three days and sometimes three months would not be an abuse of discretion in granting an adjournment. If the prisoner were innocent, then, of course, it would be a hardship to keep him locked up, but the people had some rights, and if he were the scoundrel he is believed to be the statue of Liberty needed not to shiver at the idea of his confinement. "The Italian Gevernment," continued Mr. Condert, "says this is Esposito and that witnesses are on the way here to prove it. We want you to keep him for us until they arrive. Are you going to make a dead letter of all extradition treaties? The Government has vested in you a discretion, and I ask you to exercise it wisely. It would be a reproach against our Government if a man charged with such crimes as the prisoner is were allowed to escape."

Judge Cheate said that counsel did not differ as to the law on the subject. He admitted that there should be some proofs on which he should base his action. The witnesses who were coming to this country had taken the longest and the slowest route, and he contended that the delay asked for was unreasonable.

Commissioner Osborn intimated that in other cases he had granted from one to six weeks' delay in order to secure evidence, and had been apheld in proceedings of review. He saw no reason in the present case why there should not be a reasonable delay, and suggested that adjournment be taken for fourteen days, when he would hear argument for a further adjournment. Judge Choate suggested that if delay was to be granted it should be for twenty-one days. But he wished to make a motion which he admitted was novel. He moved that the Commissioner should go no further with the case, except to take such action as was necessary for the security of the prisoner, and should leave it for the District Judge of New-Orleans or some ether authority in that city to issue a new warrant. His reason for asking that the median be granted was that the ehief point in the case would be the one as to the identity of the prisoner. He had lived an New-Orleans for several years and was there known to many by sight who could not identify him by description. Judge Choate argued that the Commissioner had power to decline to go further with the case, and that under the circumstances it was just and right for him to do so. The prisoner, he said, w

Only one favorite out of four was successful, Sir Hugh winning the first race of a mile in fast time. He has been a profitable horse to G. L. Lerillard's stable, getting many purses. Bipple ought to have been first in the pools on the second race, from his running at Long Branch, but Getaway was foolishly preferred to him by the speculators. Then Rosella headed Disturbance and showed the way to the third jump, which she made in a bungling manner, losing two lengths. Before she could recover Disturbance and Glasgow had headed her, McGrath had a double pull, on Glasgow to the upper turn, when he was let out and went by Disturbance as if the latter were tied up. He held the lead until over the last hurdle. Disturbance took the obstacle cleaner than Glasgow, and the pair ran for home head and head, both Meaney and McGrath riding for dear life. Disturbance had the best of it at the distance by a half-length, but Glasgow rallied under the whip, and won the race at the post by a neck, Rosella a goed third. Time, 2:213.

THE LIVER.

The Unusual Attention which this Organ is now Attracting from the American People.

Its Delicate Structure and Susceptibility to Injury from Wounds of Disease.

During the past few weeks, owing to an event of national in-During the past few weeks, owing to an event of national in-terest, much has been said and written about the injurious effects of wounds in the liver, and according to the Surgi-cal History of the War of the Rebellion, of the thousands of cases of wounds in that organ, not above sixty serviced, and tasks of womash that organ, not above sixty survived, and they were not violent ones. The record is filled with re-coveries from gunshot wounds in the head, the lungs, and the pelvic region, but it is a "miracle" when one outlives even an ordinary wound in the liver. No other proof is needed of the delicacy of its structure, nor of its extreme susceptibility composed of two lobes, which He directly under the right lung, and is of a spongy character. When the venous blood is circulating from the various parts of the body to the lungs is circulating from the various parts of the body to the immality passes through this organ and is there relieved of its rank poisons, part of which are used for direction and part for a cathartic of the waste math his of the food we eat. If the organ is at all diseased these poisons remain in it instead of being used as nature designed, and with overy coursing of the blood through the lobes of the liver, the nature of the disease becomes chronic. The reason why so little success has hitherto been reached in the treatment of fiver diseases is because the philosophy of treatment has been lame and the remedies employed have been inadequate. It is a conceded fact that until within the past few years there has been no known remody for chronic kidney diseases, and it is cut ain that the liver cannot be restored to its right action if the kidneys are affected. It is also a fact that when the liver is diseased the remody for curonic kidney diseases, and it is certain that the liver cannot be restored to its right action if the kidneys are affected. It is also a fact that when the liver is diseased the kidneys are also troubled; hence it follows that liver diseases are hard to over, chiefly because the doctors know of no access which will at one and the same time operate on both the kidneys and the liver.

Admitting, then, that no form of treatment can be effective which does not seek to reach both the liver and the kidneys at the same time, it would be strange insies of it, all the researches of this wonderful are of scientific invention, no such remedy had been found. The doctors admit they have nothing to offer, but independent scientists have becoved their learning and patients by discovering a pure verystaide remedy, whose success in the past few years in the treatment of kidney difficulties shows conclusively that it can cure every form of known kidney disease, and what it has done for kidneys it is cunsily able to do and does do for the liver. Warner's Safe kidney and Liver Cure was the discovery of a practitioner who moved its worth in his own case and then gove it to the worth. It arise to have a few orders and liver, so that when disease is cured in one of those organs it cannot go to the other, but is canively removed from the eveten.

The symptoms of kidney and liver difficulties are great and
